Università degli Studi "Guglielmo Marconi" - Telematica

The Università degli Studi "Guglielmo Marconi" is the first Italian "Open University" acknowledged by the Ministry of Education with about 13.500 students and 300 staff. It adopts innovating learning modalities by developing suitable research strategies for most advanced technological solutions, integrating communication tools (e-learning, t-learning, mobile learning, etc.) with in-presence activities (workshops, seminars, etc). University courses, enhanced by multimedia and communication technologies, are designed to meet the needs of people interested in postgraduate courses, young graduates and working adults.

The "International Cooperation in the Youth Field for Building a Europe of Solidarity, Creativity and Tolerance" project is funded under Action 4.3: Training and Networking of those active in youth work and youth organizations of the Youth in Action Programme. The project aims at facilitating the process of building sustainable partnerships at European level and planning joint projects on themes of common interest in the sphere of social inclusion and cultural activity, as well as exchange of experience, expertise and good practices.

Partners

- ❖ Europrojects Foundation (EUPF), Bulgaria
- ❖ Multidisciplinary European Research Institute Graz (MERIG), Austria
- ❖ Università degli Studi "Guglielmo Marconi", Italy
- ❖ Association Positive Mind, Latvia

Objectives

- ❖ To identify ideas for Youth in Action future projects;
- ❖ To increase the capacity of participating organizations to adequately meet the needs of socially excluded youths through exchange of experience and good practices and suggestion of new approaches in the work with disadvantaged youths;
- ❖ To contribute to building sustainable partnerships and partnership networks;
- ❖ To identify various local initiatives to the benefit of young people;
- ❖ To promote the Youth in Action Programme.

The target groups of the project are young people with fewer opportunities due to one or more of the following obstacles:

Social, economic or geographical obstacles, disabilities, educational difficulties, lower qualification, cultural differences, health problems.

Activities

During the contact seminar the participating organizations exchanged expertise and experience in both formal and informal atmosphere and were acquainted in detail with the objectives, priorities, actions and funding mechanisms of the Youth in Action Programme. Various interactive methods were used such as presentations, brainstorming, joint discussions and working groups. During the social and cultural activities organized by the project initiator the participants were acquainted with Bulgarian art, culture and traditions.

Project results

As a result of collaborative discussions among designated working groups project ideas for the following actions of the Youth in Action Programme were generated: 1.1. Youth exchanges, Action 2 European voluntary service Action 4 – Youth support systems. The participants planned the scope, content and time frame of the joint projects.
